1) Environmental scanning and competitor intelligence provide important inputs for forecasting activities.

2) Perceptual acuity, according to Ram Charan, is the ability to know for certain what will happen in the future.

3) Ted Turner saw the potential of 24-hour news before anyone else. This is an example of perceptual acuity.

4) Environmental monitoring deals with tracking changes in environmental trends that are often uncovered during the environmental scanning process.

5) Competitive Intelligence (CI) is a tool that can provide management with early warnings about both threats and opportunities.

6) Competitive intelligence generally does not benefit very much from gathering information on competitors from sources in the public domain.

7) Even with all the advances in recent years, forecasting is typically considered more of an art than a science and it is of little use in generating accurate predictions.

8) Scenario analysis is a superficial approach to forecasting that seeks to explore possible developments that many only be connected to the past.

9) SWOT analysis is useful in part because it obliges the firm to act proactively by putting an emphasis on identifying opportunities and threats that constrain the action choices a firm might make because of its internal and external environmental scan.

10) In the SWOT framework, the Strengths and Weaknesses are external environmental factors to consider.

11) In the SWOT framework, Opportunities and Threats are environmental conditions internal to the firm.

12) Although changes in the general environment may often adversely or favorably impact a firm, they seldom alter an entire industry.

13) A major sociocultural trend in the United States is the increased number of women in the workforce that has increased the need for business clothing but decreased the demand for baking product staples.

14) Technological innovations can create entirely new industries and alter the boundaries of industries.
15) The Porter five-forces model is designed to help us understand how social attitudes and cultural values impact U.S. businesses.

16) The five-forces model helps to determine both the nature of competition in an industry and the profit potential for the industry.

17) In some industries, low switching costs can act as an important barrier to entry.

18) In most industries, new entrants will not be a threat because the Internet lowers entry barriers.

19) The Internet and digital technologies suppress the bargaining power of buyers by providing them with more information to make buying decisions.

20) Reintermediation is responsible for an overall reduction in business opportunities.

21) Two of the key inputs to developing forecasts discussed in the text are
   A) environmental scanning and stakeholder identification.
   B) assessing internal strengths and environmental scanning.
   C) environmental scanning and competitive intelligence.
   D) environmental scanning and a SWOT analysis.

22) Salemi Industries launched Cell Zone unsuccessfully in 2005 because it did not understand the market demand for its new product. This is an example of
   A) vision statement evaluation.
   B) assessing internal strengths.
   C) environmental scanning.
   D) mission statement evaluation.

23) Environmental analysis requires continual questioning of all these assumptions except
   A) a priori ideas about the structure of the relevant industry.
   B) continual updating of environmental knowledge.
   C) presuppositions about who is and is not a competitor.
   D) biases about how to make money in the industry.

24) Firms that were successful in the past can fail today because
   A) they keep pace with changes in the nature of competition.
   B) the company strategy is outdated.
   C) their financial situation is resilient.
   D) management monitors the relevant environmental factors regularly.
25) Which one of the following statements is an example of how to improve perceptual acuity?
A) A CEO meets with other CEOs of non-competing companies to examine the world from multiple perspectives and then shares the results with his own management team.
B) A CEO meets with the company management team regularly to analyze current world events and their potential impact on the company.
C) A CEO meets with direct competitors to analyze current industry trends. The CEOs share their conclusions with their respective companies.
D) Outsiders are brought in to the board meeting to critique the company strategy, which considers the new information in its potential revamping of the strategy.

26) Perceptual acuity requires all the following except
A) an ability to sense what is coming.
B) the ability to detect early warning signals of environmental changes.
C) a refusal to consult with others.
D) a strong commitment to external environmental monitoring.

27) Two non-competing global firms meet quarterly to discuss multiple perspectives on world trends. This is an example of how to improve
A) stakeholder management.
B) perceptual acuity.
C) internal scanning.
D) financial returns.

28) Which of the following is not an input process to develop forecasts?
A) environmental scanning
B) competitor intelligence
C) stakeholder management
D) environmental monitoring

29) Boards of directors use outsiders to critique their strategy. This is necessary mostly to improve
A) financial returns.
B) organizational hierarchy.
C) perceptual acuity.
D) employee relations.

30) When the management frame of reference gets out of touch with the realities of the actual business situation, what can happen to the firm?
A) Management perceptual acuity improves.
B) Management gets across-the-board raises.
C) The company business strategy no longer works.
D) It becomes easier to maintain competitive advantage.

31) Corporate retreats do not
A) permit companies to discuss larger marketplace trends.
B) guarantee positive consumer response to new products.
C) give companies an opportunity to look beyond their own industries.
D) oblige management to automatically change strategy.
32) Why must successful managers recognize opportunities and threats in their company external environment?
A) If they miscalculate the market, opportunities will be lost.
B) If they misread the market, they are likely to become rich.
C) If they identify all of the environmental threats, they are guaranteed to acquire large market share.
D) If they identify all of the environmental opportunities, they are guaranteed to acquire large market share.

33) The tenure of Ms. Marchionni as CEO of Lands' End was largely a result of her efforts to re-invent the apparel brand,
A) resulting in an alignment with the company culture.
B) resulting in an alignment with the customer base interests.
C) resulting in conflicts with the customer base and the corporate culture.
D) resulting in an alignment with the wholesome style brand of the company.

34) ________ tracks the evolution of environmental trends, sequences of events, or streams of activities.
A) Environmental scanning
B) Environmental monitoring
C) Environmental surveying
D) Competitive intelligence

35) Companies that are able to spot key trends in the environment know their business and most importantly know their
A) suppliers.
B) employees.
C) customers.
D) competitors.

36) Scanning the general environment would identify information on
A) substitute goods.
B) customer and firm bargaining power.
C) the aging population and ethnic shifts.
D) competitive rivalry.

37) Which of the following is not an example of corporate competitive intelligence?
A) banks tracking home loans
B) airlines changing hundreds of fares daily in response to competitor tactics
C) consumers comparing product offers online
D) car manufacturers offering sales incentives based on rival offers
38) Gathering competitive intelligence
A) is illegal.
B) is good business practice.
C) is considered unethical.
D) minimizes the need to obtain information in the public domain.

39) Environmental forecasting does not involve plausible projections about the ________ of environmental change.
A) direction
B) scope
C) speed
D) lack of intensity

40) When investors examine the performance of beauty products like Olay moisturizers and CoverGirl cosmetics, they are looking for
A) indicators of emerging trends.
B) accidental changes in behavior.
C) supplier preferences.
D) company management trends.

41) Which of the following websites is not an example of one used routinely for corporate competitive intelligence gathering?
A) Slideshare
B) Quora
C) Duolingo
D) YouTube

42) Executives must be careful to avoid spending so much time and effort tracking the actions of ________ that they ignore ________.
A) competitors; customers
B) customers; competitors
C) traditional competitors; new competitors
D) existing customers; existing competitors

43) Banks and airlines are examples of two industries that track competitor offers continually. This is called the process of gathering
A) consumer responses.
B) competitive intelligence.
C) past decisions.
D) mainline information.

44) Which of the following would not lead a manager to believe that an ethical concern exists?
A) Have I done anything that coerced somebody to share this information?
B) Have I done something to circumvent a system intended to secure or protect information?
C) Is the contemplated technique for gathering information relevant?
D) Have I misled anybody in order to gain access?
45) In 1977, Kenneth H. Olsen, then president of Digital Equipment Corp., announced that there was no reason for individuals to have a computer in their home. Long since disproven, this is an example of
A) poor forecasting of future consumer demand.
B) overestimation of uncertainty.
C) excellent forecasting.
D) good prediction skills.

46) It is important to question the reliability of forecasts because
A) if predictions are too low, a company like Motel 6 might build too many units and thus have a surplus of capacity.
B) uncertainty is black and white, and therefore the gray areas are unimportant.
C) underestimating uncertainty can lead to good competitive strategies.
D) the growth new industries, such as that of telecommunications, cannot be predicted.

47) A danger of forecasting discussed in the text is that
A) in most cases, the expense of collecting the necessary data exceeds the benefit.
B) the retrospective nature of forecasting provides little information about the future.
C) it can create legal problems for the firm if regulators discover the company is making forecasts.
D) managers may view uncertainty as black and white while ignoring important gray areas.

48) PPG Industries, the Pittsburgh-based manufacturer of paints, coatings, optical products, specialty materials, chemicals, glass, and fiber glass suffered serious failures in 1986 and 1987 when it attempted to diversify its offers. It used a technique to help it identify possible future strategies. What was it?
A) crowdsourcing
B) competitive intelligence
C) scenario analysis
D) monitoring

49) SWOT analysis is a framework for analyzing the internal and external environment of a company. It consists of strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats. According to a SWOT analysis, which of the following is not an aspect that the strategy of the firm must follow?
A) build on its weaknesses
B) remedy the weaknesses or work around them
C) take advantage of the opportunities presented by the environment
D) protect the firm from the threats

50) Scenario planning is a useful technique for firms competing in industries characterized by

A) predictability; stability
B) low profit margins; stability
C) unpredictability; change
D) high profit margins; stability
51) Scenario analysis draws on a range of disciplines and interests. It is a more _______ approach to forecasting.
A) basic
B) fundamental
C) in-depth
D) superficial

52) In the SWOT framework, _______ are the same for all firms in the same competitive environment.
A) strengths and weaknesses
B) strengths and opportunities
C) weaknesses and threats
D) opportunities and threats

53) In the SWOT framework, _______ are internal factors that are specific to the company.
A) strengths and opportunities
B) strengths and threats
C) threats and weaknesses
D) strengths and weaknesses

54) Heightened concern with fitness might be a threat to some companies and an opportunity to others. In the SWOT framework, these are _______ environmental factors.
A) internal
B) external
C) both internal and external
D) not relevant external

55) By emphasizing the importance of identifying opportunities and threats, the SWOT framework makes firms act _______ rather than _______.
A) quickly; slowly
B) immediately; eventually
C) proactively; reactively
D) intelligently; uninformed

56) SWOT analysis raises awareness about the role of strategy in creating a match between the environmental conditions and _______ of the firm.
A) internal opportunities and threats
B) internal strengths and weaknesses
C) internal strengths and opportunities
D) internal weaknesses and opportunities

57) Steve Jobs, former chairman of Apple, demonstrated that _______ also are important in forecasting.
A) character and ability
B) intuition and judgment
C) training and experience
D) imagination and training
58) Which of the following is not a correct usage of the SWOT framework?
A) build on its strengths
B) remedy the weaknesses or work around them
C) take advantage of the opportunities presented by the environment
D) protect the firm from environmental weaknesses

59) The aging of the population, changes in ethnic composition, and effects of the millennial generation are ________ changes.
A) macroeconomic
B) global
C) sociocultural
D) demographic

60) Larger numbers of women entering the work force since the early 1970s is an example of
A) demographic changes.
B) political and legal environmental changes.
C) sociocultural changes.
D) technological developments.

61) Emerging sociocultural changes in the environment include
A) changes in the ethnic composition.
B) the increasing educational attainment of women in the past decade.
C) progressively less disposable income by consumers.
D) changes in the geographic distribution of the population.

62) All of the following are important elements of the political and legal segment of the general environment except
A) the deregulation of utilities.
B) the increased use of Internet technology.
C) the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).
D) increases in the federally mandated minimum wage.

63) Which of the following would be considered part of the general environment of a firm?
A) decreased entry barriers
B) higher unemployment rates
C) increased bargaining power of the firm's suppliers
D) increased competitive intensity

64) Interest rate increases have a ________ impact on the residential home construction industry and a ________ effect on industries that produce consumer necessities such as prescription drugs or basic grocery items.
A) positive; negligible
B) negative; positive
C) negative; negligible
D) positive; negative
65) In the general environment, many relationships exist among the various elements. General environmental trends can have positive and negative impacts on various industries. For example, the aging population might have a ________ impact on the health care industry and a ________ impact on the baby product industry. These are called ________ impacts.
A) negative; positive; demographic
B) positive; negative; technological
C) negative; positive; sociocultural
D) positive; negative; demographic

66) In the general environment, which of the following is not a demographic trend?
A) aging population
B) greater disparities in income levels
C) changes in ethnic composition
D) more women in the workforce

67) Research published in Personnel Psychology shows that older workers are slightly more willing to implement organizational changes than younger workers. This is an example of which segment of the general environment?
A) economic
B) demographic
C) sociocultural
D) political and legal

68) Professor Tamara Erickson says that members of different generations bring different experiences, assumptions, and benefits to the workforce. She believes companies can gain a great deal from creating a culture that welcomes workers of all ages and in which leaders address biases. This is an example of which segments of the general environment?
A) economic
B) demographic
C) sociocultural
D) political and legal

69) The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act require companies to disclose whether any tin, tantalum, tungsten or gold in their supply chain is connected to violent militia groups in the Congo or nine surrounding countries, including Angola, Rwanda, and Sudan. This is an example of which segment of the general environment?
A) economic
B) sociocultural
C) political and legal
D) demographic
70) There are many challenges to complying with the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act to the tracking of materials from more than two million small scale or subsistence miners in the Eastern Congo. Modern supply-chain logistics are not very relevant in these environments. This is an example of which segment of the general environment?
A) economic
B) demographic
C) sociocultural
D) political and legal

71) Data Analytics are being used by corporations to understand their customer purchasing patterns. This is an example of which segment of the general environment?
A) economic
B) demographic
C) technological
D) political and legal

72) Genetic engineering has had a positive impact on the pharmaceutical industry. This is an example of which type of general environmental trend?
A) economic
B) demographic
C) technological
D) political and legal

73) Which is considered a force in the five-forces model?
A) increased deregulation in an industry
B) the threat of government intervention
C) recent technological innovation
D) rivalry among competing firms

74) Airbnb, a room-sharing site, offers more rooms than Marriott. Goldman Sachs suggests that the supply of new rooms over the next two years will outpace the previous five even though the growth of American occupancy rates has begun to slow. Which competitive force is involved in this situation?
A) the threat of favorable government policies
B) the threat of new buyers
C) the threat of new entrants
D) the threat of proprietary products

75) Which of the following firms would likely pose the least competitive threat?
A) a firm in the same industry and in the same strategic group
B) a competitor to your product where a high switching cost exists
C) a firm that produces substitute goods to your product line
D) a firm in the same industry and in the nearest strategic group looking to join your group
76) The threat of newentrants is high when there are
A) high capital requirements.
B) low economies of scale.
C) high switching costs.
D) high differentiation among competitor products and services.

77) Product differentiation by incumbents act as an entry barrier because
A) new entrants cannot differentiate their products.
B) incumbents will take legal action if new entrants do not differentiate their products.
C) it helps a firm to derive greater economies of scale.
D) new entrants will have to spend heavily to overcome existing customer loyalties.

78) Which of the following would be an entry barrier?
A) easy access to raw materials
B) low switching costs
C) large economies of scale
D) low capital requirements

79) An automobile manufacturer acquires a rental car company. This is an example of
A) backward integration.
B) forward integration.
C) economies of scale.
D) product differentiation.

80) The bargaining power of the buyer is greater than that of the supplier when
A) volume of purchase is low.
B) the buyer profit margin is low.
C) cost savings from the supplier's product are minimal.
D) threat of backward integration by buyers is low.

81) Buyer power will be greater when
A) the products purchased are highly differentiated.
B) it is concentrated or when a buyer group purchases large volumes relative to seller sales.
C) the industry product is very important to the quality of the buyer end products or services.
D) there are high switching costs.

82) The bargaining power of suppliers increases as
A) threat of forward integration by suppliers increases.
B) importance of buyers to supplier group increases.
C) switching costs for buyers decrease.
D) more suppliers enter the market.
83) New communication technology can impact seemingly unrelated industries such as the airline industry. This would be an example of a
A) threat of entry.
B) backward integration.
C) threat of substitute products.
D) forward integration.

84) The bargaining power of suppliers is enhanced under which following market condition?
A) no threat of forward integration
B) low differentiation of the supplier products
C) greater availability of substitute products
D) dominance by a few suppliers

85) In the five-forces model, conditions under which a supplier group can be powerful include all of the following except
A) lack of importance of the buyer to the supplier group.
B) high differentiation by the supplier.
C) readily available substitute products.
D) dominance by a few suppliers.

86) Because the Internet lowers barriers to entry in most industries, it
A) decreases the threat of new entrants.
B) increases supplier power.
C) makes it easier to build customer loyalty.
D) increases the threat of new entrants.

87) Apple uses its ________ power to pay no more than 2 percent of its sales a square foot in rent.
A) supplier
B) competitor
C) buyer
D) restraining

88) End users are not
A) the final consumers in a distribution channel.
B) the first customers in a distribution channel.
C) likely to have greater bargaining power because of the Internet.
D) usually the C in B2C.

89) Incumbent firms may enjoy increased bargaining power because the Internet
A) focuses marketing efforts on end users.
B) has reduced the number of wholesalers and distributors.
C) increases channel conflict.
D) diminishes the power of many distribution channel intermediaries.
90) Supplier power has increased because of the Internet for all the following reasons except
A) the growth of new web-based businesses has created more outlets for suppliers to sell to.
B) software that links buyers to a supplier's website has created rapid, low-cost order capabilities.
C) the process of disintermediation makes it possible for some suppliers to reach end users directly.
D) some suppliers have created web-based purchasing systems that encourage switching.

91) In general, the threat of substitutes is heightened because the Internet
A) lowers switching costs.
B) lowers barriers to entry.
C) introduces new ways to accomplish the same task.
D) increases output per unit of cost.

92) How do infomediaries and consumer information websites increase the intensity of competitive rivalry?
A) by shifting customers away from issues of price
B) by consolidating the marketing message that consumers use to make a purchase decision
C) by making competitors in cyberspace seem less equally balanced
D) by highlighting unique selling advantages of a firm

93) The value net is a game-theoretic approach that
A) extends the value chain analysis.
B) uses network analysis to understand the relationships among different companies.
C) helps us to understand the evolution of the five forces over time.
D) is a way to analyze how the interactions of all the players in a game affect the firm.

94) In the value net analysis, complementors are
A) firms that produce substitute products.
B) firms that produce products that have a positive impact on company product value.
C) customers who compliment the company for their good products and services.
D) firms that supply critical inputs to a company.

95) Complements are products or services that have a potential impact on the ________ of the products or services of that company.
A) cost
B) availability
C) value
D) substitutability

96) Nintendo built a security chip into its game console hardware and then licensed the right to develop games to outside firms. These firms paid a royalty to Nintendo for each copy of the game sold. This is an example of Nintendo using ________ products.
A) substitute
B) complement
C) unrelated
D) differentiated
97) Elements of the five forces can be quantified. This is important for analyzing industry structure. Which of the following is not an example of an element that can be quantified?
A) the percentage of the buyer total cost accounted for by the industry product
B) the percentage of industry sales required to fill a plant or operate a logistical network to efficient scale
C) the buyer switching cost
D) the governmental regulatory policy

98) Strategic groups consist of a group of
A) top executives that makes strategies for a company.
B) executives drawn from different companies within an industry that makes decisions on industry standards.
C) firms within an industry that decides to collude rather than compete with each other so that they can increase their profits.
D) firms within an industry that follows similar strategies.

99) Which of the following statements about strategic groups is false?
A) Two assumptions are made: (1) no two firms are totally different, and (2) no two firms are exactly the same.
B) Strategic groupings are of little help to a firm in assessing mobility barriers that protect a group from attacks by other groups.
C) Strategic groups help chart the future directions of firm strategies.
D) Strategic groups are helpful in thinking through the implications of each industry trend for the group as a whole.

100) Strategic groups consist of firms that are more ________ to each other than firms that are not.
A) familiar
B) similar
C) friendly
D) useful

101) Strategic groups are clusters of firms that share ________ strategies.
A) differing
B) the same
C) similar
D) new

102) Classifying an industry into strategic groups involves judgment. If it is useful as an analytical tool, we must exercise caution in deciding what dimensions to use to map these firms. Dimensions include all of the following except
A) breadth of product and geographic scope.
B) price and quality.
C) degree of vertical integration.
D) management team.
103) Referring to the textbook Exhibit 2.7 The World Automobile Industry: Strategic Groups, which strategic group is the largest in terms of breadth of product line?
A) Ferrari, Lamborghini, Porsche
B) Toyota, Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Honda, Nissan
C) Chery, Geely, Tata Motors
D) Mercedes, BMW, Audi

104) Referring to the textbook Exhibit 2.7 The World Automobile Industry: Strategic Groups, which strategic group is the smallest in terms of breadth of product line?
A) Hyundai, Kia
B) Toyota, Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Honda, Nissan
C) Chery, Geely, Tata Motors
D) Mercedes, BMW, Audi

105) Referring to the textbook Exhibit 2.7 The World Automobile Industry: Strategic Groups, which strategic group consists of firms high in product pricing/quality and average in their product-line breadth?
A) Ferrari, Lamborghini, Porsche
B) Toyota, Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Honda, Nissan
C) Chery, Geely, Tata Motors
D) Mercedes, BMW, Audi

106) In 2014, Audi introduced the Q3 SUV at a base price of only $32,500. And BMW, with its 1-series, is another well-known example. Such cars, priced in the low $30,000s, compete more directly with products from broad-line manufacturers like Ford, General Motors, and Toyota. This suggests that members of a strategic group can overcome ________ barriers and migrate to other groups that they find attractive if they are willing to commit time and resources.
A) mobility
B) competitive
C) pricing
D) cost

107) The strategic groups concept is valuable for identifying groups with ________ competitive positions.
A) marginal
B) exceptional
C) healthy
D) poor

108) The strategic groups concept is valuable for charting the ________ directions of firm strategies.
A) historical
B) past
C) present
D) future
109) The strategic groups concept is valuable for assessing the implications of industry ________ for the strategic group as a whole.
A) trends
B) positions
C) experience
D) wealth

110) Using the five-forces model, explain a potential reason why Alaska Airlines purchased
Virgin America in December 2016.

111) Use the Quora website (www.quora.com) to study the African country of Ethiopia.
According to the general environment factors listed in the textbook (demographic, sociocultural, political/legal, technological, economic, global), make a case for a company to include the country in its list of desirable customers. Be sure to define your company by industry.

112) What is the difference between the demographic segment and the sociocultural segment in the list of general environment factors that impact the strategy and performance of a firm? Provide specific examples to support your discussion.

113) Using the five-forces model, explain how the threat of new entrants might affect a U.S.-based manufacturer of lead acid batteries used for industrial storage.

114) Fast fashion retailer success depends upon the ability to spot trends. Explain this in terms of environmental scanning, monitoring and collecting of competitive intelligence. Use an example to support your argument. Companies such as H&M and Zara fall into this category but there are many other competitors.
Strategic Management: Text and Cases, 9e (Dess)
Chapter 2   Analyzing the External Environment of the Firm: Creating Competitive Advantages

1) Environmental scanning and competitor intelligence provide important inputs for forecasting activities.

Answer:  TRUE
Explanation:  Three important processes (scanning, monitoring, and gathering competitive intelligence) are used to develop forecasts.
Difficulty: 2 Medium
Topic:  Understanding a Firm’s External Environment
Learning Objective:  02-01 The importance of developing forecasts of the business environment.
Bloom's:  Understand
AACSB:  Knowledge Application
Accessibility:  Keyboard Navigation

2) Perceptual acuity, according to Ram Charan, is the ability to know for certain what will happen in the future.

Answer:  FALSE
Explanation:  Ram Charan defines perceptual acuity as the ability to sense what is coming before the fog clears.
Difficulty: 2 Medium
Topic:  Understanding a Firm’s External Environment
Learning Objective:  02-01 The importance of developing forecasts of the business environment.
Bloom's:  Understand
AACSB:  Knowledge Application
Accessibility:  Keyboard Navigation

3) Ted Turner saw the potential of 24-hour news before anyone else. This is an example of perceptual acuity.

Answer:  TRUE
Explanation:  Ram Charan defines perceptual acuity as the ability to sense what is coming before the fog clears. Turner saw the potential of 24-hour news before anyone else did. All the ingredients were there, but no others connected them until he created CNN.
Difficulty: 2 Medium
Topic:  Understanding a Firm’s External Environment
Learning Objective:  02-01 The importance of developing forecasts of the business environment.
Bloom's:  Understand
AACSB:  Analytical Thinking

4) Environmental monitoring deals with tracking changes in environmental trends that are often uncovered during the environmental scanning process.

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: Environmental monitoring tracks the evolution of environmental trends, sequences of events, or streams of activities.
Difficulty: 1 Easy
Topic: Understanding a Firm's External Environment
Learning Objective: 02-02 Why environmental scanning, environmental monitoring, and collecting competitive intelligence are critical inputs to forecasting.
Bloom's: Understand
AACSB: Analytical Thinking
Accessibility: Keyboard Navigation

5) Competitive Intelligence (CI) is a tool that can provide management with early warnings about both threats and opportunities.

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: Competitive intelligence (CI) helps firms define and understand their industry and identify strengths and weaknesses of rivals. Done properly, competitive intelligence helps a company avoid surprises by anticipating competitor moves and decreasing response time.
Difficulty: 1 Easy
Topic: Understanding a Firm's External Environment
Learning Objective: 02-02 Why environmental scanning, environmental monitoring, and collecting competitive intelligence are critical inputs to forecasting.
Bloom's: Understand
AACSB: Knowledge Application
Accessibility: Keyboard Navigation

6) Competitive intelligence generally does not benefit very much from gathering information on competitors from sources in the public domain.

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: Competitive intelligence is frequently done effectively through public sources of information. Examples are evident in daily newspapers and periodicals such as The Wall Street Journal, Bloomberg Businessweek, and Fortune. For example, banks continually track home loan, auto loan, and certificate of deposit (CD) interest rates charged by rivals. Major airlines change hundreds of fares daily in response to competitor tactics.
Difficulty: 2 Medium
Topic: Understanding a Firm's External Environment
Learning Objective: 02-02 Why environmental scanning, environmental monitoring, and collecting competitive intelligence are critical inputs to forecasting.
Bloom's: Understand
AACSB: Analytical Thinking
Accessibility: Keyboard Navigation
7) Even with all the advances in recent years, forecasting is typically considered more of an art than a science and it is of little use in generating accurate predictions.

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: Environmental forecasting involves the development of plausible projections about the direction, scope, speed, and intensity of environmental change. Its purpose is to predict change.
Difficulty: 2 Medium
Topic: Understanding a Firm's External Environment
Learning Objective: 02-02 Why environmental scanning, environmental monitoring, and collecting competitive intelligence are critical inputs to forecasting.
Bloom's: Understand
AACSB: Analytical Thinking

8) Scenario analysis is a superficial approach to forecasting that seeks to explore possible developments that may only be connected to the past.

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: Scenario analysis is a more in-depth approach to forecasting. It draws on a range of disciplines and interests, among them economics, psychology, sociology, and demographics. It does not rely on extrapolation of historical trends. Rather, it seeks to explore possible developments that may only be connected to the past.
Difficulty: 2 Medium
Topic: Understanding a Firm's External Environment

9) SWOT analysis is useful in part because it obliges the firm to act proactively by putting an emphasis on identifying opportunities and threats that constrain the action choices a firm might make because of its internal and external environmental scan.

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: Despite its apparent simplicity, the SWOT approach has been very popular. First, it forces managers to consider both internal and external factors simultaneously. Second, its emphasis on identifying opportunities and threats makes firms act proactively rather than reactively. Third, it raises awareness about the role of strategy in creating a match between the environmental conditions and the internal strengths and weaknesses of the firm.

10) In the SWOT framework, the Strengths and Weaknesses are external environmental factors to consider.

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: The Strengths and Weaknesses refer to the internal conditions of the firm in which a firm excels (strengths) and where it may be lacking relative to competitors (weaknesses).

13) A major sociocultural trend in the United States is the increased number of women in the workforce that has increased the need for business clothing but decreased the demand for baking product staples.

Answer: TRUE
Explanation: The increased number of women in the workforce has increased the need for business-clothing merchandise but decreased the demand for baking product staples (because people would have less time to cook from scratch).

17) In some industries, low switching costs can act as an important barrier to entry.

Answer: FALSE

18) In most industries, new entrants will not be a threat because the Internet lowers entry barriers.

Answer: FALSE
Explanation: In most industries, the threat of new entrants has increased because digital and Internet-based technologies lower barriers to entry. For example, businesses that reach customers primarily through the Internet may enjoy savings on other traditional expenses such as office rent, sales-force salaries, printing, and postage. This may encourage more entrants who, because of the lower start-up expenses, see an opportunity to capture market share by offering a product or performing a service more efficiently than existing competitors. Thus, a new cyber entrant can use the savings provided by the Internet to charge lower prices and compete on price despite the incumbent's scale advantages.

A) a priori ideas about the structure of the relevant industry.
B) continual updating of environmental knowledge.
C) presuppositions about who is and is not a competitor.
D) biases about how to make money in the industry.

Answer:  B
Explanation:  According to Hamel and Prahalad, every manager carries around in his or her head a set of biases, assumptions, and presuppositions about the structure of the relevant industry, about how one makes money in the industry, about who the competition is and is not, about who the customers are and are not, and so on. A) they keep pace with changes in the nature of competition.
B) the company strategy is outdated.
C) their financial situation is resilient.
D) management monitors the relevant environmental factors regularly.

Answer:  B
Explanation: The strategy of the firm may be good at one point in time, but it may go astray when the management frame of reference gets out of touch with the realities of the actual business situation. This situation results when management assumptions, premises, or beliefs are incorrect or when internal inconsistencies among them render the overall theory of the business invalid.

25) Which one of the following statements is an example of how to improve perceptual acuity?
A) A CEO meets with other CEOs of non-competing companies to examine the world from multiple perspectives and then shares the results with his own management team.
B) A CEO meets with the company management team regularly to analyze current world events and their potential impact on the company.
C) A CEO meets with direct competitors to analyze current industry trends. The CEOs share their conclusions with their respective companies.
D) Outsiders are brought in to the board meeting to critique the company strategy, which considers the new information in its potential revamping of the strategy.

A) an ability to sense what is coming.
B) the ability to detect early warning signals of environmental changes.
C) a refusal to consult with others.
D) a strong commitment to external environmental monitoring.

Answer: C
Explanation: The best CEOs are compulsively tuned to the external environment and seem to have a sixth sense that picks up anomalies and detects early warning signals which may represent key threats or opportunities. Although many CEOs may complain that the top job is a lonely one, they cannot do it effectively by sitting alone in their office. 29) Boards of directors use outsiders to critique their strategy. This is necessary mostly to improve
A) financial returns.
B) organizational hierarchy.
C) perceptual acuity.
D) employee relations.

Answer: C
Explanation: To improve perpetual acuity, two companies ask outsiders to critique strategy during their board strategy sessions. Such input typically leads to spirited discussions that provide valued input on the hinge assumptions and options that are under consideration. Once, the focus was on pinpointing the risk inherent in a certain strategy. Now, discussions have led to finding that the company was missing a valuable opportunity.

D) It becomes easier to maintain competitive advantage.

Answer:  C
Explanation: A company strategy may be good at one point in time, but it may go astray when the management frame of reference gets out of touch with the realities of the actual business situation. 31) Corporate retreats do not
A) permit companies to discuss larger marketplace trends.
B) guarantee positive consumer response to new products.
C) give companies an opportunity to look beyond their own industries.
D) oblige management to automatically change strategy.

Answer:  B
Explanation: According to Ram Charan, an adviser to many Fortune 500 CEOs, improving perceptual acuity is an advantage that one CEO finds from getting together with his critical people for half a day every eight weeks to discuss what is new and what is going on in the world. The setting is informal, and outsiders often attend. The participants look beyond the lens of their industry because some trends that affect one industry may impact others later on.

32) Why must successful managers recognize opportunities and threats in their company external environment?
A) If they miscalculate the market, opportunities will be lost.
B) If they misread the market, they are likely to become rich.
C) If they identify all of the environmental threats, they are guaranteed to acquire large market share.
D) If they identify all of the environmental opportunities, they are guaranteed to acquire large market share.

Answer: A
Explanation: Successful managers must recognize opportunities and threats in their company external environment. They must be aware of what is going on outside their company. If they focus exclusively on the efficiency of internal operations, the firm may degenerate into the most efficient producer of buggy whips, typewriters, or carbon paper. But if they miscalculate the market, opportunities will be lost.

A) resulting in an alignment with the company culture.
B) resulting in an alignment with the customer base interests.
C) resulting in conflicts with the customer base and the corporate culture.
D) resulting in an alignment with the wholesome style brand of the company.

Answer: C
Explanation: One could attribute much of the failure of the tenure of Ms. Marchionni as CEO at Lands' End to her efforts to re-invent the apparel brand in a way that was in conflict with both its customer base as well as the family culture of the firm and wholesome style—as we discussed in in the opening case in Chapter 1.

A) banks tracking home loans
B) airlines changing hundreds of fares daily in response to competitor tactics
C) consumers comparing product offers online
D) car manufacturers offering sales incentives based on rival offers

40) When investors examine the performance of beauty products like Olay moisturizers and CoverGirl cosmetics, they are looking for
A) indicators of emerging trends.
B) accidental changes in behavior.
C) supplier preferences.
D) company management trends.

Answer:  A
Explanation:  Leading firms in an industry can also be a key indicator of emerging trends. For example, with its wide range of household goods, Procter & Gamble is a barometer for consumer spending. Any sign that it can sell more of its premium products without cutting prices sharply indicates that shoppers may finally be becoming less sensitive to pricing with everyday purchases. In particular, investors will examine the performance of beauty products like Olay moisturizers and CoverGirl cosmetics for evidence that spending on small, discretionary pick-me-ups is improving.

B) Have I done something to circumvent a system intended to secure or protect information?
C) Is the contemplated technique for gathering information relevant?
D) Have I misled anybody in order to gain access?

Answer:  C

A) poor forecasting of future consumer demand.
B) overestimation of uncertainty.
C) excellent forecasting.
D) good prediction skills.

Answer:  A
Explanation:  In 1977, one of the colossal underestimations in business history occurred when Kenneth H. Olsen, president of Digital Equipment Corp., announced that there was no reason for individuals to have a computer in their home. The explosion in the personal computer market was not easy to detect in 1977, but it was clearly within the range of possibilities at the time. B) uncertainty is black and white, and therefore the gray areas are unimportant.
C) underestimating uncertainty can lead to good competitive strategies.
D) the growth new industries, such as that of telecommunications, cannot be predicted.

Answer:  A
Explanation: Some forecasting issues are much more specific to a particular firm and the industry in which it competes. Consider how important it is for Motel 6 to predict future indicators, such as the number of rooms, in the budget segment of the industry. If its predictions are low, it will build too many units, creating a surplus of room capacity that would drive down room rates.

B) the retrospective nature of forecasting provides little information about the future.
C) it can create legal problems for the firm if regulators discover the company is making forecasts.
D) managers may view uncertainty as black and white while ignoring important gray areas.

It used a technique to help it identify possible future strategies. What was it?
A) crowdsourcing
B) competitive intelligence
C) scenario analysis
D) monitoring

Answer: C
Explanation: Scenario analysis is a more in-depth approach to forecasting. It draws on a range of disciplines and interests, among them economics, psychology, sociology, and demographics. It usually begins with a discussion of participant thoughts on ways in which societal trends, economics, politics, and technology may affect an issue. Developing strategies based on possible future scenarios seems to be paying off for PPG Industries. 49) SWOT analysis is a framework for analyzing the internal and external environment of a company. It consists of strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats. According to a SWOT analysis, which of the following is not an aspect that the strategy of the firm must follow?
A) build on its weaknesses
B) remedy the weaknesses or work around them
C) take advantage of the opportunities presented by the environment
D) protect the firm from the threats

Answer: A
Explanation: The general idea of SWOT analysis is that company strategy must build on its strengths, remedy its weaknesses or work around them, take advantage of the opportunities presented by the environment, and protect the firm from the threats. Despite its apparent simplicity, the SWOT approach has been very popular. First, it forces managers to consider both internal and external factors simultaneously. Second, its emphasis on identifying opportunities and threats makes firms act proactively rather than reactively. Third, it raises awareness about the role of strategy in creating a match between the environmental conditions and the firm's internal strengths and weaknesses. Finally, its conceptual simplicity is achieved without sacrificing analytical rigor.

52) In the SWOT framework, ________ are the same for all firms in the same competitive environment.
A) strengths and weaknesses
B) strengths and opportunities
C) weaknesses and threats
D) opportunities and threats

Answer:  D
Explanation: Opportunities and threats are environmental conditions external to the firm. These could be factors in either the general or the competitive environment. In the general environment, one might experience developments that are beneficial for most companies, such as improving economic conditions that lower borrowing costs, or trends that benefit some companies and harm others.

53) In the SWOT framework, _______ are internal factors that are specific to the company.
A) strengths and opportunities
B) strengths and threats
C) threats and weaknesses
D) strengths and weaknesses

   Answer:  D
   Explanation:  The strengths and weaknesses refer to the internal conditions of the firm in which a firm excels (strengths) and may be lacking relative to competitors (weaknesses).

54) Heightened concern with fitness might be a threat to some companies and an opportunity to others. In the SWOT framework, these are _______ environmental factors.
A) internal
B) external
C) both internal and external
D) not relevant external

   Answer:  B
   Explanation:  In the general environment, one might experience developments that are beneficial for most companies, such as improving economic conditions that lower borrowing costs, or trends that benefit some companies and harm others. An example is the heightened concern with fitness, which is a threat to some companies (e.g., tobacco) and an opportunity to others (e.g., health clubs).

55) By emphasizing the importance of identifying opportunities and threats, the SWOT framework makes firms act ________ rather than ________.
A) quickly; slowly
B) immediately; eventually
C) proactively; reactively
D) intelligently; uninformed

Answer: C
Explanation: Despite its apparent simplicity, the SWOT approach has been very popular. First, it forces managers to consider both internal and external factors simultaneously. Second, its emphasis on identifying opportunities and threats makes firms act proactively rather than reactively.

57) Steve Jobs, former chairman of Apple, demonstrated that ______ also are important in forecasting.
A) character and ability
B) intuition and judgment
C) training and experience
D) imagination and training

Answer:  B
Explanation: While analysis is necessary, it is also equally important to recognize the role played by intuition and judgment. Steve Jobs, the legendary former chairman of Apple, took a very different approach in determining what customers really wanted. Jobs relied on his own intuition, his radar-like feel for emerging technologies and how they could be brought together to create insanely great products that ultimately made the difference. For Jobs, intuition was no mere gut call.

A) build on its strengths
B) remedy the weaknesses or work around them
C) take advantage of the opportunities presented by the environment
D) protect the firm from environmental weaknesses

A) negative; positive; demographic
B) positive; negative; technological
C) negative; positive; sociocultural
D) positive; negative; demographic

Answer:  D

73) Which is considered a force in the five-forces model?
A) increased deregulation in an industry
B) the threat of government intervention
C) recent technological innovation
D) rivalry among competing firms

Answer: D
Explanation: The five-forces model describes the competitive environment in terms of five basic competitive forces: the threat of new entrants, the bargaining power of buyers, the bargaining power of suppliers, the threat of substitute products and services, and the intensity of rivalry among competitors in an industry.
Difficulty: 1 Easy

74) Airbnb, a room-sharing site, offers more rooms than Marriott. Goldman Sachs suggests that the supply of new rooms over the next two years will outpace the previous five even though the growth of American occupancy rates has begun to slow. Which competitive force is involved in this situation?
A) the threat of favorable government policies
B) the threat of new buyers
C) the threat of new entrants
D) the threat of proprietary products

Answer: C
Explanation: The threat of new entrants refers to the possibility that the profits of established firms in the industry may be eroded by new competitors. The extent of the threat depends on existing barriers to entry and the combined reactions from existing competitors. If entry barriers are high and/or the newcomer can anticipate a sharp retaliation from established competitors, the threat of entry is low. These circumstances discourage new competitors.

A) a firm in the same industry and in the same strategic group
B) a competitor to your product where a high switching cost exists
C) a firm that produces substitute goods to your product line
D) a firm in the same industry and in the nearest strategic group looking to join your group

Answer: B
Explanation: The competitive threat of intense rivalry can result from lack of differentiation or switching costs. When switching costs are high, this threat is lowered.

A) high capital requirements.
B) low economies of scale.
C) high switching costs.
D) high differentiation among competitor products and services.

A) new entrants cannot differentiate their products.
B) incumbents will take legal action if new entrants do not differentiate their products.
C) it helps a firm to derive greater economies of scale.
D) new entrants will have to spend heavily to overcome existing customer loyalties.

Answer: D
Explanation: When existing competitors have strong brand identification and customer loyalty, differentiation creates a barrier to entry by forcing entrants to spend heavily to overcome existing customer loyalties.

A) volume of purchase is low.
B) the buyer profit margin is low.
C) cost savings from the supplier's product are minimal.
D) threat of backward integration by buyers is low.

Answer: B
Explanation: A buyer group is powerful when it is concentrated or purchases large volumes relative to seller sales, it earns low profits, or the buyers pose a credible threat of backward integration.

A) the products purchased are highly differentiated.
B) it is concentrated or when a buyer group purchases large volumes relative to seller sales.
C) the industry product is very important to the quality of the buyer end products or services.
D) there are high switching costs.

Answer: B
Explanation: A buyer group is powerful when it is concentrated or purchases large volumes relative to seller sales, the products it purchases from the industry are standard or undifferentiated, the buyer faces few switching costs, or the industry product is unimportant to the quality of the buyer products or services.

A) threat of forward integration by suppliers increases.
B) importance of buyers to supplier group increases.
C) switching costs for buyers decrease.
D) more suppliers enter the market.

Answer: A
Explanation: A supplier group will be powerful when the supplier group is dominated by a few companies and is more concentrated (few firms dominate the industry) than the industry it sells to; the industry is not an important customer of the supplier group; the supplier group products are differentiated or it has built up switching costs for the buyer; or the supplier group poses a credible threat of forward integration.

83) New communication technology can impact seemingly unrelated industries such as the airline industry. This would be an example of a
A) threat of entry.
B) backward integration.
C) threat of substitute products.
D) forward integration.

Answer:  C
Explanation: Identifying substitute products involves searching for other products or services that can perform the same function as the industry's offerings. This may lead a manager into businesses seemingly far removed from the industry. For example, the airline industry might not consider video cameras much of a threat. But as digital technology has improved and wireless and other forms of telecommunication have become more efficient, teleconferencing has become a viable substitute for business travel.

A) no threat of forward integration
B) low differentiation of the supplier products
C) greater availability of substitute products
D) dominance by a few suppliers

86) Because the Internet lowers barriers to entry in most industries, it
A) decreases the threat of new entrants.
B) increases supplier power.
C) makes it easier to build customer loyalty.
D) increases the threat of new entrants.

Answer: D
Explanation: In most industries, the threat of new entrants has increased because digital and Internet-based technologies lower barriers to entry. Internet businesses may enjoy savings on traditional expenses which may encourage more entrants who see an opportunity to capture market share by offering a product or performing a service more efficiently than existing competitors.

87) Apple uses its ________ power to pay no more than 2 percent of its sales a square foot in rent.
A) supplier
B) competitor
C) buyer
D) restraining

Answer:  C
Explanation:  Apple has used its buyer power to pay no more than 2 percent of its sales a square foot in rent. That compares very favorably with a typical tenant, which pays as much as 15 percent, according to industry executives. In addition to paying a lower percentage of sales for rent, Apple does not pay additional rent if their sales exceed a particular level—a luxury not afforded other retail tenants.

A) the final consumers in a distribution channel.
B) the first customers in a distribution channel.
C) likely to have greater bargaining power because of the Internet.
D) usually the C in B2C.

Answer:  B
Explanation:  End users are the final customers in a distribution channel. Sales activity that is labeled B2C is concerned with end users. The Internet is likely to increase the power of these buyers, in part because the Internet provides large amounts of consumer information.

89) Incumbent firms may enjoy increased bargaining power because the Internet
A) focuses marketing efforts on end users.
B) has reduced the number of wholesalers and distributors.
C) increases channel conflict.
D) diminishes the power of many distribution channel intermediaries.

Answer:  D
Explanation:  In some industries, buyer channel intermediaries are dominated by powerful players that control who gains access to the latest goods or the best merchandise. The Internet and wireless communications, however, make it much easier and less expensive for businesses to reach customers directly. Thus, the Internet may increase the power of incumbent firms relative to that of traditional buyer channels.

90) Supplier power has increased because of the Internet for all the following reasons except
A) the growth of new web-based businesses has created more outlets for suppliers to sell to.
B) software that links buyers to a supplier's website has created rapid, low-cost order capabilities.
C) the process of disintermediation makes it possible for some suppliers to reach end users directly.
D) some suppliers have created web-based purchasing systems that encourage switching.

Answer:  D
Explanation:  Several factors contribute to stronger supplier power. First, web-based business may create more downstream outlets for suppliers to sell to. Second, web-based purchasing arrangements make purchasing easier and discourage customers from switching. Online procurement systems directly link suppliers and customers, reducing transaction costs and paperwork. Third, the use of proprietary software that links buyers to a supplier website may create a rapid, low-cost ordering capability that discourages the buyer from seeking other sources of supply. Finally, suppliers will have greater power to the extent that they can reach end users directly without intermediaries.

91) In general, the threat of substitutes is heightened because the Internet
A) lowers switching costs.
B) lowers barriers to entry.
C) introduces new ways to accomplish the same task.
D) increases output per unit of cost.

Answer: C
Explanation: Along with traditional marketplaces, the Internet has created a new marketplace and a new channel. In general, therefore, the threat of substitutes is heightened because the Internet introduces new ways to accomplish the same tasks.

92) How do infomediaries and consumer information websites increase the intensity of competitive rivalry?
A) by shifting customers away from issues of price
B) by consolidating the marketing message that consumers use to make a purchase decision
C) by making competitors in cyberspace seem less equally balanced
D) by highlighting unique selling advantages of a firm

Answer: B
Explanation: Some shopping infomediaries, such as CNET, not only search for the lowest prices on many different products but also rank the customer service quality of different sites that sell similarly priced items. They increase rivalry by consolidating the marketing message that consumers use to make a purchase decision into a few key pieces of information over which the selling company has little control.

93) The value net is a game-theoretic approach that
A) extends the value chain analysis.
B) uses network analysis to understand the relationships among different companies.
C) helps us to understand the evolution of the five forces over time.
D) is a way to analyze how the interactions of all the players in a game affect the firm.

Answer: D
Explanation: Based on game-theoretic considerations, Brandenburger and Nalebuff recently introduced the concept of the value net, which in many ways is an extension of the five-forces analysis. The value net represents all the players in the game and analyzes how their interactions affect company ability to generate and appropriate value.

94) In the value net analysis, complementors are
A) firms that produce substitute products.
B) firms that produce products that have a positive impact on company product value.
C) customers who compliment the company for their good products and services.
D) firms that supply critical inputs to a company.

Answer: B
Explanation: Complements typically are products or services that have a potential impact on the value of the products or services of that company. Those who produce complements are usually referred to as complementors. Powerful hardware is of no value to a user unless there is software that runs on it.

96) Nintendo built a security chip into its game console hardware and then licensed the right to develop games to outside firms. These firms paid a royalty to Nintendo for each copy of the game sold. This is an example of Nintendo using ________ products.
A) substitute
B) complement
C) unrelated
D) differentiated

Answer:  B
Explanation:  The success of Nintendo in the early 1990s was a result of its ability to manage its relationship with its complementors. Nintendo built a security chip into the hardware and then licensed the right to develop games to outside firms. These firms paid a royalty to Nintendo for each copy of the game sold. The royalty revenue enabled Nintendo to sell game consoles at close to their cost, thereby increasing their market share, which, in turn, caused more games to be sold and more royalties to be generated.

97) Elements of the five forces can be quantified. This is important for analyzing industry structure. Which of the following is not an example of an element that can be quantified?
A) the percentage of the buyer total cost accounted for by the industry product
B) the percentage of industry sales required to fill a plant or operate a logistical network to efficient scale
C) the buyer switching cost
D) the governmental regulatory policy

Answer:  D
Explanation:  The point of industry analysis is not to declare the industry attractive or unattractive but to understand the underpinnings of competition and the root causes of profitability. As much as possible, analysts should look at industry structure quantitatively, rather than be satisfied with lists of qualitative factors. Many elements of five forces can be quantified: the percentage of the buyer total cost accounted for by the industry product (to understand buyer price sensitivity); the percentage of industry sales required to fill a plant or operate a logistical network to efficient scale (to help assess barriers to entry); and the buyer switching cost (determining the inducement an entrant or rival must offer customers).

98) Strategic groups consist of a group of
A) top executives that makes strategies for a company.
B) executives drawn from different companies within an industry that makes decisions on industry standards.
C) firms within an industry that decides to collude rather than compete with each other so that they can increase their profits.
D) firms within an industry that follows similar strategies.

Answer:  D
Explanation:  Strategic groups are clusters of firms that share similar strategies. Rivalry tends to be greater among firms that are alike.

99) Which of the following statements about strategic groups is false?
A) Two assumptions are made: (1) no two firms are totally different, and (2) no two firms are exactly the same.
B) Strategic groupings are of little help to a firm in assessing mobility barriers that protect a group from attacks by other groups.
C) Strategic groups help chart the future directions of firm strategies.
D) Strategic groups are helpful in thinking through the implications of each industry trend for the group as a whole.

Answer: B
Explanation: In an industry analysis, two assumptions are unassailable: (1) no two firms are totally different, and (2) no two firms are exactly the same. What value is the strategic group concept as an analytical tool? First, strategic groupings help a firm identify barriers to mobility that protect a group from attacks by other groups. They also help chart the future directions of firm strategies and are helpful in thinking through the implications of each industry trend for the strategic group as a whole.

A) familiar
B) similar
C) friendly
D) useful

Answer: B
Explanation: In an industry analysis, two assumptions are unassailable: (1) No two firms are totally different, and (2) no two firms are exactly the same. The issue becomes one of identifying groups of firms that are more similar to each other than firms that are not, otherwise known as strategic groups.

A) breadth of product and geographic scope.
B) price and quality.
C) degree of vertical integration.
D) management team.

Answer:  D
Explanation:  Classifying an industry into strategic groups involves judgment. If it is useful as an analytical tool, we must exercise caution in deciding what dimensions to use to map these firms. Dimensions include breadth of product and geographic scope, price/quality, degree of vertical integration, type of distribution (e.g., dealers, mass merchandisers, private label), and so on.

A) Ferrari, Lamborghini, Porsche
B) Toyota, Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Honda, Nissan
C) Chery, Geely, Tata Motors
D) Mercedes, BMW, Audi

Answer:  B
Explanation:  The final group (at the far right) consists of firms with a broad range of products and multiple price points. These firms have entries that compete at both the lower end of the market (e.g., the Ford Focus) and the higher end (e.g., Chevrolet Corvette).

106) In 2014, Audi introduced the Q3 SUV at a base price of only $32,500. And BMW, with its 1-series, is another well-known example. Such cars, priced in the low $30,000s, compete more directly with products from broad-line manufacturers like Ford, General Motors, and Toyota. This suggests that members of a strategic group can overcome ________ barriers and migrate to other groups that they find attractive if they are willing to commit time and resources.
A) mobility
B) competitive
C) pricing
